2017-18 CTIE Students

With new programs in addition to Certified Nursing Assistant, Raymond Career College (RCC) has completed another successful school year!

Landry-Walker High School students participated in the career and technical education program which included classroom instruction and workplace training.

During the 2017-18 School year, Programs were offered in Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA), Patient Care Technician (PCT), and Medical Assistant(MA).

At this time, Raymond Career College is the only local institution that has graduated high school students with national certifications through the National Healthcareer Association. Those certifications include Patient Care Technicians and Medical Assistants.

This school year, 33 students celebrated successful completion of the Nursing Assistant Program and are able to seek employment as Certified Nursing Assistants (CNAs) in hospitals, nursing homes, home healthcare, and other healthcare facilities.

Raymond Career College students receive rigorous instruction in Human Anatomy and Physiology, Medical Terminology, CPR, and Career Preparation.

PATIENT CARE TECHNICIAN AND MEDICAL ASSISTANT

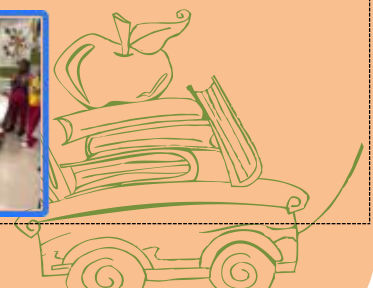

In 2017-18 students worked diligently at learning the skills required to effectively function in a healthcare facility as Certified Patient Care Technicians and Certified Medical Assistants.

6 Students are Nationally Certified Patient Care Technicians and 3 Students are Nationally Certified Medical Assistants.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, in 2017 the median salary for Patient Care Technicians is $12.81 per hour and $15.61 per hour for Medical Assistants.

Students in these programs have had the opportunity to acquire skills that are usually learned at the postsecondary level. Raymond Career College does more than put students on the path to careers-we give them the opportunity to enter a career with a credential that allows them to become gainfully employed. In addition to providing Teaching skills that go beyond the workplace, Raymond Career College’s staff of qualified healthcare professionals, focus on soft skills, as well as, life skills.

Many of our students who earn a credential, enroll in college to seek an advanced degree in a health career field. Some enter the workforce directly from high school with the ability to financially support themselves. Other students may work while attending a postsecondary institution. Whichever they choose, earning a credential at the high school level is extremely beneficial to them.

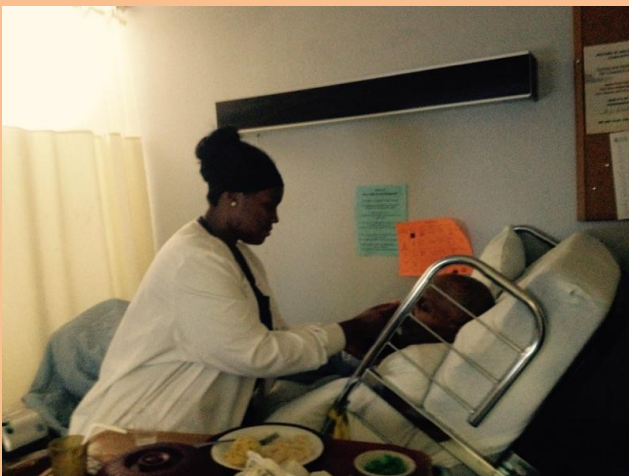

MORE TO COME

High School Administrators please review the attached information. Raymond Career College is now offering program development and consultant services. I am now providing my services to healthcare facilities, schools, and practitioners in New Orleans and other states as the health care field continues to grow. There are limitless opportunities for our children and parents in the New Orleans area and I will continue to make a difference in the lives of our young people. If you are interested in having our program at your school site this school year or embarking on embedding health science credentialing programs into your current curriculum, please do not hesitate to contact me here at Raymond Career College. Now is the time to get your junior and senior students signed up for Fall 2018 sessions at Raymond Career College. All programs have specific requirements. Please contact us for the necessary forms and informational materials to get your students enrolled.

OUR THANKS

Raymond Career College would like to send a special thanks to all who have made our program a success-- Administrators, Counselors, Practitioners, Clinical Facility Administrators, Local businesses, and State Governmental Agency Staff.

A special thanks to all of our students, parents and staff for your hard work and continued support.
